

Have you ever thought about death?

How would you prefer to die someday?

Heart attack?

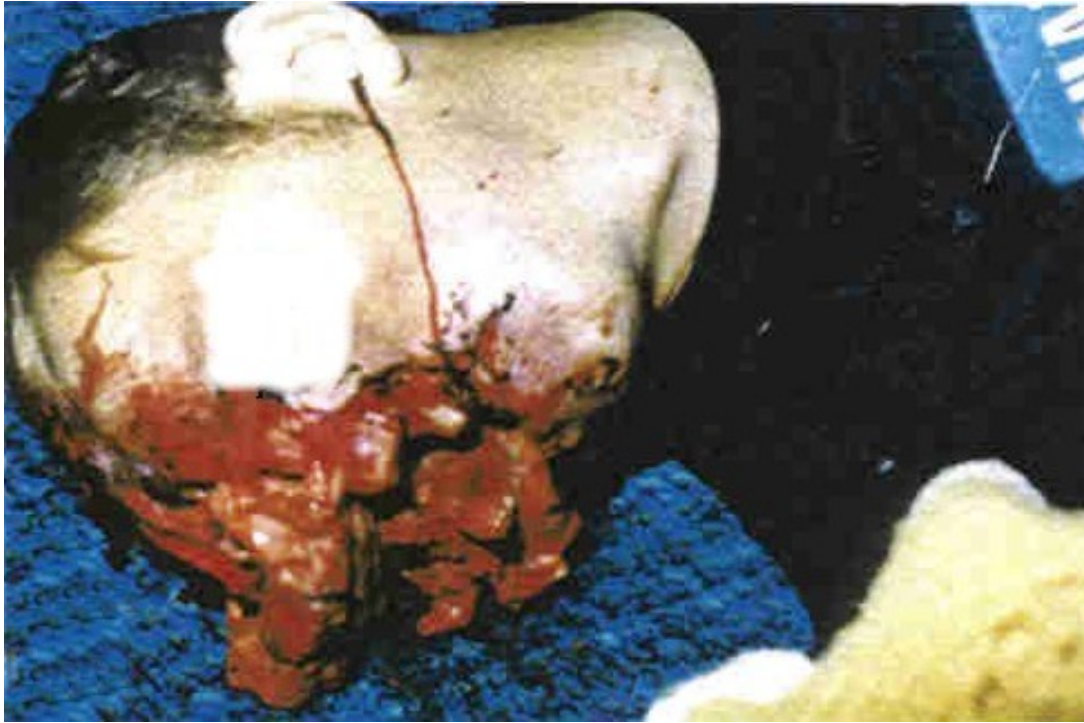

Traffic accident?

What kind of death are you most afraid of?

Take a look at the reality of South Africa's farmers...

This baby of six months old was wrapped in newspaper and set alight. The baby's parents were also murdered in one of the numerous farm attacks in South Africa during the past few years.

This was the result of an innocent farmer having been shot with a shotgun from behind his head! This farmer was ambushed by his attackers when he returned home from a church sermon on a Sunday morning.

A gang of six terrorists broke into the house of this elderly farmer and waited for him to return from town. He was caught the morning and tied down with ropes. He was burnt by the six barbarians using cigarettes, his fingers were cut off and he was tortured for hours on end. Late the afternoon his body was covered in black plastic bags and set alight.

This is what yet another innocent farmer looked like when his throat was slit by his attackers, after they had burgled his house and he had been stabbed and hacked with knives and other weapons. His throat was slit and he was left in the bathroom of his house.

A photograph of a field filled with numerous white crosses, representing 1600 deaths. The crosses are scattered across a dry, brownish field. In the background, there is a clear blue sky, a traffic light, and some industrial structures. A black rectangular box with red text is overlaid on the center of the image.
